Break Seen Wednesday In Cold Wave

Slight Moderation Already Is Evident; Beaver Schools Open

The third cold wave of winter showed signs of moderating as numbed Ohio shivered with another morning of temperature near or below zero.

The East Liverpool area got insignificant relief of one degree — it was 4 above zero this morning

Ice Covers River From Dam To Bridge

Ice covered the Ohio River from Dam 8 to the Chester bridge this morning after the second day of near zero temperatures.

It was not thick, however, and soon began breaking up. Towboats chopped through the light crust and the current was carrying the ice downstream by midmorning.

against 3 above Monday, and there was a 2 - degree improvement in the rural area — 5 below zero yesterday and 3 below today.

Dam 8 recorded the above - zero marks and Edwin Copeland's weather observatory at Millport chalked up the subzero readings.

Fredericktown, the unofficial "icebox" of the area, was a little less far down in the deepfreeze — it was 10 below there this morning. A resident recorded 12 below yesterday.

The high yesterday afternoon at the dam was only 10 degrees but the Ohio weatherman said today's top range will be 14 to 18 and tonight's low will be 4 to 8 above for Northeastern Ohio, with prospects the Ohio Valley temperature will not drop that much.

Classes resumed today at Beaver Local School District's seven buildings after a suspension Monday due to the cold and resulting mechanical difficulty with buses.

Secondary roads were reported hazardous in many places by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon, and main roads were slippery in spots.

Southerly winds are nudging some warm air this way, the Weather Bureau reports, and by Wednesday the temperature should hit 20 in the north and 28 in the south.

Skies should be bright and sunny again today and Wednesday, the Weather Bureau said, except in the Lake Erie region where snow flurries are expected.

Early morning temperatures today were generally sub-zero, but

Ohio's House Approves Pay Increase Bill

Measure Boosting Appointed Officials Now Goes To Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Just like two years ago, the Ohio legislature is in the process of raising the salaries of most top appointive state officials at the outset of the legislative session.

But this time the cast of characters is different.

Two years ago, Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill asked for and got whopping pay raises for his cabinet members. The raise was granted by a GOP - dominated legislature in the first week of the 1957 session—even before O'Neill took office.

Monday, a Democratic-dominated house received, passed 104-25 and sent to the senate a pay-raise bill sought by Democratic Gov-elect Michael V. DiSalle who will not take office until Jan. 12.

Chances are the Democratic-controlled senate will pass the bill today without much trouble. The Republican minority is expected to support it.

The difference: DiSalle probably will stick by his pay-raise guns. O'Neill, after weeks of fretting in early 1957, asked the legislature to revoke most of the pay increases he had asked earlier.

The DiSalle-sponsored pay raises are more moderate than those O'Neill asked and later scuttled. The pay measure, sponsored by House Majority Leader Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery), would cut the salary of the director of highways from $30,000 a year ($5,000 more than the governor receives) to $22,500. It would grant these raises:

Director of mental hygiene and correction from $18,000 to $22,500.
Director of health from $12,000 to $16,000.
Tax commissioner from $12,000 to $15,000.

Free Access To Berlin Is Slated West

Mikoyan, Visiting In U.S., Hints Pledge; Concession By Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan was reported today to have assured the United States of continued free Western access to Berlin.

Such a pledge would go to the heart of the current East-West tension over Berlin's future. It would signal a major concession by the Kremlin to the West's objections to Soviet demands to make a "free city" of Berlin.

Mikoyan was understood to have told high level State Department, business and congressional leaders Monday night:

1. The Soviet Union is determined to turn over administration of East Berlin to the puppet East German Communist regime, regardless of U. S. - British - French denunciation of the plan.

2. The Soviet Union is not trying to throw the Allies out of West Berlin, even though Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a Nov. 27 note, suggested withdrawal of all Allied troops from the city.

3. The Soviet Union simply feels the time has come, 13 years after the end of World War II, to give Berlin a new status.

4. The United States, Britain and France, in replying last week to Khrushchev's note, were remiss in not coming up with some counter-proposal which might have provided the basis for negotiation.

5. The Soviet decision to hand East Berlin over to East Germany by next May in no way implies a peace-or-war ultimatum; continued free access to Berlin, 110 miles inside East Germany, could be arranged, and a role may be found for the United Nations to play in guaranteeing this.

The 63-year-old Mikoyan, second in Kremlin power only to Khrushchev, laid these cards on the table in replying to questions at an exclusive dinner given for him by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn., of America.

Johnston was apologetic afterward for inviting some newsmen and letting others shiver outside his swank headquarters in 15-degree temperature. He said the five invited were "personal friends."

Hovering outside also were about 50 anti-Communist pickets, refugees from Iron Curtain countries. Sparked by former Freedom Fighters in Hungary's abortive 1957 revolts they brandished placards, shook fists and screamed in cadence: "Mik-o-yan the murderer!"

Mikoyan and his party, arriving for the dinner in a Soviet Embassy Cadillac, paid no attention to the pickets.

Mikoyan conferred for 95 minutes with Secretary of State Dulles at the State Department Monday, primarily about Berlin. Afterward, he said he will talk about Berlin and other tension topics with President Eisenhower on Jan. 19 or 20.

He is due back in Washington Jan. 19 after visiting several American cities. It was learned he will fly at 8 a. m. EST Wednesday to Cleveland to confer with industrialist Cyrus Eaton. The American millionaire recently conferred in Moscow with Khrushchev and Mikoyan.

After Cleveland, Mikoyan goes Thursday to Detroit and Friday to Chicago, with stops later at San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. An expected Dallas visit was tentatively ruled out.

Mikoyan and Dulles used almost identical language in describing their 95-minute noontime talk. Each said they discussed Berlin, the whole German question, disarmament and trade. Informed officials said that was just about the order of importance, with Berlin and Germany hogging most of the time.

These officials also said nothing was decided in the Dulles-Mikoyan meeting. After Mikoyan's out-of-Washington visits, they are expected to come to closer grips in what Mikoyan called "a further exchange of views."

County Commissioners Elect Gard President

R. Max Gard of near Lisbon was named president of the Columbiana County Board of Commissioners at the annual reorganization meeting Monday at the Courthouse at Lisbon.

Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, Republican, is the other commissioner.

Daniel Butch of Leetonia officially began his duties yesterday as clerk for the commissioners, as did other recent new appointees.

U.S. To Charge 4 Balloonists Kidnaping In Chester Case

3 From Aliquippa Will Face Federal Complaints Today

U. S. District Atty. Albert M. Morgan at Wheeling said the federal government expects to file kidnaping charges in U. S. Northern District Court today against three Pennsylvania men.

Donald Lane, Ronald Wilson and Wilbur Smith, all of Aliquippa, are accused of kidnaping a Chester woman last August and forcing her to accompany them into Beaver County where she allegedly was raped.

Hancock County authorities quoted Mrs. Dorothy Amedeo, 32, that she was robbed of $200 at gunpoint while tending the tavern operated in Chester by her husband, Carl Amedeo, and the three men forced her into a car, drove into the Western Pennsylvania county, bound her and attacked her.

Lane and Wilson were picked up Friday in Aliquippa for questioning about a series of burglaries and armed robberies.

Russell Meskow, chief of detectives in Beaver County, reported that the two men admitted under questioning that they robbed the Chester establishment and took the woman into Pennsylvania.

Meskow also said that Lane and Wilson implicated Smith. Smith had pleaded guilty Wednesday to contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was sentenced to 2 years in the Allegheny County Workhouse at Pittsburgh.

The three men are being held in the county jail at Beaver. Authorities were awaiting a decision on whether West Virginia, Pennsylvania or the federal government will get the first opportunity to prosecute them.

4 Balloonists Rest Up After Ordeal At Sea

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) —Four daring British balloonists slept in soft beds this morning, resting up from the rigors of a 24-day Atlantic crossing that started in the air and ended on the water.

A fishing boat spotted the crew of the balloon Small World — three men and a woman — as they sailed slowly along Monday in their gondola-bow four hours off Barbados. The fishing boat towed them in to a boisterous welcome.

The intrepid quartet floated off from the Canary Islands Dec. 12 in an open, 7½ by 15½ foot plastic boat suspended from a 47-foot balloon. This British West Indian island 3,000 miles across the Atlantic was their goal, their purpose a scientific study of Atlantic trade winds. The balloon crossing had never been made before.

Council Votes Funds Needed For 3 Months

Fills Operating Gap Until Appropriation For Year Is Set Up

A temporary appropriation ordinance allocating $278,222 to meet city payrolls and miscellaneous expenses for the first three months of 1959 was given unanimous approval by Council Monday night.

The legislation is the official authority to meet the city's operating expenses while Council works out the appropriation for the full year. The ordinance charting the city's fiscal course for the 12 months generally is enacted late in March or early in April.

The full year appropriation is based on estimated income for the year, determined mainly by figures supplied by the County Budget Commission at Lisbon.

Heating Unit Indicated As Fire Cause

45 Air Force Men Assigned University To Study Russian

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Wind-blown fire killed at least seven student airmen and injured 13 today as they fought like animals to escape from their barracks dormitory at Syracuse University.

"It was like animals trying to get out of a cage," moaned Sgt. Peter Dowling, 25, Kalamazoo, Mich., in his hospital bed.

The one - story, prefabricated barracks housed 45 Air Force men assigned to the university to study Russian. Their headquarters was at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Names of the dead were withheld until next of kin could be notified.

Fire officials said the fire apparently started from a heating unit as the students slept.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour whipped the flames into "a river of fire," said Donald Dowling, 19, Rochester, another of the injured.

"I heard a crackling sound. I thought it was the man who comes around to wake us up. I saw an orange light filtering through the door. I got out of bed and opened the door. It was a river of fire going down the hall. I was terrified," he said.

Peter Dowling, unrelated to Donald, told of trying to reach a fire extinguisher outside his room.

"But the fire and smoke were so great that I couldn't stand it," he told reporters. "Everybody was jumping out of windows."

He and his room mate, Sgt. Thomas Merfeld of LaCrosse, Wis., broke through a window of their room.

Many of the men were cut by window glass.

The 22 - room, clapboard - type building, in the university's Sky-top housing development on a hill overlooking the city, "went up like a matchbox," Dowling said.

Firemen, in near-zero weather and blowing snow, controlled the flames about an hour and a half after the fire was discovered, at 6 a.m. Fifteen barracks are in a clump on the hill, on the southeastern edge of the city.

The students, all single, had just arrived to take a nine-month crash program that stresses Russian. The program, established in the 1940s, is subsidized by the government for the Air Force.

5 Perish When Fire Razes Nursing Home

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Five persons died in a fire that destroyed a Martinsburg nursing home early today.

Lt. Philip Stein of the Martinsburg Fire Dept. said three convalescent patients and the woman operator of Smith's Nursing Home perished in the flames. Five other persons were rescued — one in critical condition.

The names of the victims were not immediately available.

Stein said the fire was not reported until about one hour after smoke was first smelled in the 10-room building. He said the home was of frame construction with asbestos covering.

School Group Reorganizes

Bake Again Heads Wellsville Board

Veteran member Earl A. Bake was re-elected president for the eighth consecutive year at the annual reorganization meeting of the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night. Russell Dysert was returned as vice president.

Bake, who resides at 15th St., is beginning his 12th year on the board and the fourth year of his third four-year term. Dysert, an employee of the Dravo Corp., is in his second term.

The terms of Bake, Donald Wellington and Richard S. Rowe expire this year. Dysert served as temporary chairman for the election.

RAYMOND ROLLEY was reappointed clerk for another two-year term and his $1,500 bond was renewed. The Potters Bank & Trust Co.'s Wellsville branch was named depository for school funds.

Board meetings were set for the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p. m.

As a formality, a brief business session was held before the election to clear year-end business. The board approved millage rates for taxes for certification to the county auditor's office.

The general fund will be 4.6 mills inside the 10-mill limitation and 14.4 mills outside the limitation. Also approved were 2.8 mills outside the limitation for the bond retirement fund. This is a drop of 1.7 mills from the 4.5 required during 1958.

SUPT. E. E. DAW presented proposed educational objectives for the 1959-60 school year.

He said the present courses of study in the system were set up about 10 years ago and for this reason need revision. In the junior and senior high schools, the courses in English and social science have undergone recent revision, it was pointed out. A committee now is at work on the revision of the courses in mathematics, Daw said.

He asked the board to consider setting aside a sum to reimburse members of curriculum committees for their services "in order to obtain a professional approach."

He reported that steps will be taken to make provision for the "enrichment of courses" for rapid learners in grades seven and eight. Necessary data for reclassification and grouping in these grades has been obtained, he said. He also outlined some of the data which is based on the intelligence quotient, the achievement of pupils in reading and mathematics and the rating of pupils by teachers.

The rapid learning groups will be advanced in accordance to their learning ability and will be given additional work in math and science. Pupils in the advance group in Grade 8 will be introduced to the early steps in Algebra, he continued.

Certain changes will be made in the courses of study before the junior high is chartered, he said.

Daw said an attempt will be made within the next two weeks to establish adult education classes in typing, shorthand, English, art and other classes that may be asked.

Anyone interested should make application for enrollment at the superintendent's office, he said.

THE BOARD approved the tuition payment of $12.99 per month each for two children attending classes for retarded children.

A report was received from the county auditor's office showing that $94.42 will be withheld by the Board of Elections to pay for the board's share of the Nov. 4 election.

The board promised to have new safety latches installed on fire exit doors at McKinley School after receiving a report from Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association safety committee. The board also said other items will be checked.

O'Hara said two doors were stuck and would not open properly and did not contain "panic" bars which can be shoved against to open the door outward. He said the committee feels fire extinguishers should be installed in each room. There are three in the building.

Also, there are two open shafts running from the basement to the attic which would act as flues should a fire develop in the basement, he said, in requesting they be blocked.

Bake said he had investigated the building and talked with PTA representatives. All buildings were inspected in October by the state fire marshal for this area.

All members agreed to have the matters investigated and also check other schools.

Bake reported the regular meeting next Monday night at 7:30 may be postponed to allow members to attend the State Board of Education meeting in Columbus when an answer is expected on a petition by Hillcrest residents asking to join the Wellsville system.

If postponed, the Wellsville board's meeting will be held Wednesday, Jan. 14.

Council Given Request

Lisbon St. Area Asks Water

A delegation representing five families that reside off Lisbon St. to the west of St. Aloysius Cemetery told Council Monday night the city should extend water service to the area, as the neighborhood now must depend upon cisterns that run dry several times a year.

Spokesman for the group was Charles W. Barnhart, 1170 Lisbon St., who said the neighborhood does not get water, sewer, garbage or street service because of its isolated location.

HIS REQUEST for water service was referred to the Board of Public Utilities for investigation. The board administers the water system.

Barnhart said city water runs to within 600 feet of his neighborhood, but the line extends to a fire hydrant and is not a conventional main.

"If the city will bring the water across the road to us," that's what we want, but the city apparently doesn't want to do it," he said. "One time we offered to pay to extend the line from North Side Ave., but nothing was done."

Barnhart said water has been a constant headache in the 18 years he has lived in the neighborhood. For many years, the fire department sent a pump to refill cisterns when the supplies became exhausted during dry weather.

He said delivery of the water was delayed for some time on the last occasion it was requested because of the refusal of Safety-Service Director Dan Maggiani.

"I THINK WE pay city taxes and we should have city service," Barnhart said. "We have no road service or no garbage collection. The only service is that the city fills our cisterns once or twice every six months."

Barnhart said the city forced him to abandon an outside toilet 16 years ago and construct a septic tank and bathroom. Since then, the drain on the water supply has been heavier, he said. He said his cistern has been filled by the city twice in the last year.

After hearing his complaint, Council approved a motion from Councilman Samuel Webber to refer it to the Board of Public Utilities. Barnhart was accompanied by several other residents of the area, but none addressed Council. Council approved figures from City Engineer George S. Bloomgren reporting the overall cost of two recent street and sewer improvements and the special assessments that will be collected from property-owners to help pay for the work.

SURFACING of Walters St. from Pennsylvania Ave. to Globe St. cost a total of $1,432, of which the city's share was $83 and the special assessment will be $3.45 a front foot, Bloomgren said.

Installation of a sanitary sewer on Harvey Ave. and Hazel Alley cost $7,000, including $629 as the city's share, he reported. The special assessment will be $6.98 a front foot.

Official notices of the assessment signed by R. H. Goodman, Council clerk, will be published as a legal advertisement Jan. 8, 15 and 22. Residents have five weeks from the first publication to file any objections to the assessment.

In the next step, Council will enact legislation officially levying the assessments.

Council filed a letter from Mrs. Gwendolyn Henthorne of E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, complaining that the value of property at 817 Lincoln Ave. which she owns has deteriorated since several trees were removed by an Ohio Power Co. crew. She complained that she should be compensated, but mentioned no figure.

COUNCIL INSTRUCTED Goodman to notify Mrs. Henthorne that Council has no stake in the controversy because the question of the trees never was brought to its attention.

Council approved a report from Councilman H. A. Tullis recommending payment of $113 to Mrs. Jean Russell, 1151 Ohio Ave., for medical bills and other expenses resulting from a collision between her auto and a police cruiser last fall on Pennsylvania Ave. She had sought $1,000.

Council voted to ratify Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's action last week in reappointing Emil Liebschner Jr. to a five-year term on the Health Board. It filed a letter from the county auditor's office notifying that $2,653 would be withheld from the city's next tax settlement as its share of 1958 election and voter registration expenses.

The meeting opened with invocation by the director.

Skidding Car Strikes Youth

Mishaps Also Injure Trucker, Motorist

A 6-year-old boy was injured Monday afternoon when struck by a skidding car on W. 4th St. Ext. underneath the Newell Bridge and a truck driver and a motorist were hurt in two other accidents yesterday, both blamed on slippery streets.

James Stealey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stealey, 422 W. Drury Ln., is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with severe bruises of the face, a possible fracture of the nose and a large abrasion of the leg suffered at 3:30 p. m. when hit by a 1947 two-door sedan driven by Catherine L. Heddy, 31, of 121 Washington St., officers said.

She was driving an auto owned by Amanda Merriman, 319 Peterson Rd., Wellsville. The woman told police she was driving underneath the bridge when she saw a group of four boys at play in the street. She said she sounded her horn and applied the brakes, but the car skidded and struck the Stealey youngster. The boy told police he did not see the auto until it struck him.

George R. Garner, 27, of 815 Ashbaugh Ln. suffered a puncture wound of the thigh in an auto-truck collision at W. 9th St. and Starkey Ln., at 9:25 a. m.

Police said Garner's 1954 two-door sedan was involved in a collision with a 1956 truck operated by Frank Salamone, 44, of Freedom and owned by Marino Bros. of Rochester.

Garner told police the truck backed into the path of his car from the side street. Salamone told police his truck skidded as he backed. Garner was released after treatment at the hospital.

Meanwhile, a 50-year-old Newell man was hurt slightly when his truck knocked down a utility pole on Dresden Ave. at 5:16 p. m. yesterday, police said.

Driving a truck of the Goddard Bakers, Inc., at Chester, Gail Britton of general delivery, Newell, said he swerved to avoid an oncoming auto in his traffic lane. Britton suffered a cut nose and a sprained back, officers said.

Another collision at 3:45 p. m. yesterday at W. 6th and Jefferson Sts. damaged a bus of the Hall-Snyder Bus Co. and a 1951 station wagon driven by Charles L. Watson, 29, of 7th Ave., LaCrosse, police said.

The bus was driven by Charles R. Snyder of West Point, one of the operators of the line which transports students under contract with the Board of Education.

Snyder told police he was turning when the station wagon hit the bus. He said Watson's windshield was frosted, obscuring the driver's vision. Watson said he saw the bus turning and attempted to stop when the rear of the bus hit his vehicle.

An Akron man who will become superintendent of the Ohio Edison Co. power plant at Stratton will be guest speaker for the annual meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Thursday, Jan. 15.

He is Glenn B. Curran, who is expected to outline the operating procedure at the plant.

The meeting, in the First Methodist Church, will begin with dinner at 6:30.

The names of four new members to the Board of Directors will be announced. Voting is being done by mail, with ballots to be returned to Atty. William Bush, secretary, by next Tuesday. This is the first year the voting has been done by mail.

Those elected will replace Paul Katz, president, Thomas Platt, Dwight Russell and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara.

Candidates are Myron Weiss, Fred Huston, Robert Lowther, Harry Henniger, Dean Hudson, Thomas Grafton, Richard Grills and L. H. Key.

The terms are for three years. The board will meet within 10 days following the membership meeting to reorganize and elect officers.

It COULD Be Done

School Building Program Ends With $800 Balance

A $2,725,000 building program started nearly six years ago "which many said couldn't be finished" has been completed with a balance of approximately $800 remaining, James Lowe announced to the Board of Education meeting Monday night shortly before his retirement as president.

After Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported a balance of $977.65 in the improvement fund with two outstanding bills totaling about $170, Lowe declared the community should be "justly proud" of the present and former boards.

"Each board member should feel a sense of satisfaction," he commented, pointing out many residents didn't believe the program, which called for construction of two junior-high schools and an elementary building, could be accomplished.

Leo C. Lawrence, newly elected president, concurred with Lowe, pointing out he believes it is the first time in the history of East Liverpool that a project of its size was finished without going back to the people for additional funds.

"It's everything that was promised with the LaCrosse School and addition at Taft as bonuses," he added.

The other three members, C. Walter Ashbaugh, Samuel W. Brown and James B. Moss, also agreed with the expressions.

The board commended the administrative staff headed by Supt. Ralph W. Betts, pointing out the program was completed "because they asked for only what was needed."

The bond issue was approved in 1951 and financed the construction of East Junior High and Westgate School, a combined Junior high and elementary building.

With the funds remaining, the board constructed a new LaCrosse School to replace an old wooden building and an addition at Taft to make it a six-room school. Five obsolete buildings — Washington, West End, 3rd St., 6th St. and Grant St. — were abandoned.

Killed In Plane Crash

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Francis E. Parker, 37, chief test pilot for Convair at Holloman Air Force Base, was killed Monday in the crash of a jet fighter plane.

The other three members, C. Walter Ashbaugh, Samuel W. Brown and James B. Moss, also agreed with the expressions.

State Praises Voting Staff

Brown Gives Award At Annual Meeting

Fast, accurate reporting of returns paid off for the Columbiana County Election Board Monday night at Columbus when it was presented an award by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at a banquet highlighting the 10th annual convention of the Ohio Association of Election Officials.

At the same time, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, a member of the county board, was installed on the Board of Trustees of the association. Gosney also is county Democratic chairman and a state central committeeman from the 18th Congressional District.

In the awards for fast election reporting, Columbiana County's board was first in its population bracket, Class I. Scioto County received honorable mention in the same group. A total of 13 of the awards was presented.

For many years, the county has had a reputation for being one of the first in the state to report returns to Columbus on election nights and one of the first to finish the complete, unofficial tabulation of its figures.

Members of the board are Carl L. Stacey and Gosney, both of Columbiana, Atty. James McSweeney of Wellsville and T. Emerson Smith of Salem. Frank R. O'Hanlon of East Liverpool is clerk.

At the banquet at which the presentation was made, the principal speaker was Tennyson Guyer, state senator-elect and public relations director of the Cooper Tire & Rubber Co. at Findlay.

Dr. W. S. Banfield Re-Elected Stanton School Board Head

Dr. William S. Banfield was re-elected president of the Stanton Local Board of Education for his sixth term at a re-organization meeting Monday night in Irondale High School.

Lawrence Rudder was returned as vice president and Arch Warkeska was re-elected clerk.

The board also adopted a resolution calling for a budget expenditure of $225,000 for 1959, a little higher than the 1958 budget.

However, the total tax rate for 1959 in Saline Township, which includes Irondale and Hammondsville, is only 16.8 mills — the low-

Street Numbers Conflict Holds Up Township Project

Some rearranging of street numbers along St. Clair Ave. inside the city limits may be sought before a proposed street numbering program for St. Clair Ave. Ext. can get under way, it was reported at a meeting of the St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

City Engineer George Bloomgren had advised the trustees in a letter the last street number on St. Clair Ave. within the city is 3203.

However, Virgil Kirkbride, attending last night's meeting, told the trustees there are some homes just within the city limits which actually carry numbers of 3300.

The trustees agreed the township street numbering plan should have a logical foundation with the city street numbering, and it was suggested the residents inside the city have their numbers conform with an orderly city arrangement.

Bloomgren said many city street numbers were assigned when lots were smaller and in anticipation of multiple dwelling homes. Numbers were then based on a house number to each 20-foot frontage.

The engineer recommended that, with larger lots and individual homes, the township use a house number to each 50-foot frontage.

In other action, the trustees provided information on the blackout program for a delegation of six residents from Echo Dell Rd. headed by Warren Smith. The trustees will meet again Monday.

Slick Streets Cause 2 Salineville Crashes

SALINEVILLE — Ice-slick streets were blamed for two traffic crashes involving parked vehicles Monday night between 6:30 and 7. Police Chief Cleo Mellor reported.

At 6:30, a station wagon driven by Harry Kessel of Highlandtown collided with a parked car owned by Kenneth Gearin of R. D. 1 on a slippery section of W. Main St.

Shortly afterward a car driven by James Rigby, 17, of Maple Hill, rounded a turn on Water St. and skidded into a parked semi-trailer rig. The truck driver was Clifford Congrove of West St. The car was damaged badly, police said.

All The Poor Boys From Abilene

"Theories about spending and debt inherited from our small-town past, now being vigorously expressed by the man who was once a poor boy in Abilene, will push us to the wrong conclusion," warns a spokesman for the new philosophy of Happiness Through Spending.

He is David Demarest Lloyd, formerly an administrative assistant to Harry Truman and now the executive director of the former president's library at Independence, Mo. Writing in The Reporter, Lloyd refers to the idea that the federal government should live within its income on a scale commensurate with the people's willingness to pay its bills as a "dying folkyway."

The pattern of government spending must change, as it did in the early New Deal, declares Lloyd. There must be something called the "national economic budget," which tops up all the spending the Happiness-Through-Spending bloc thinks would be desirable and then makes a half-hearted attempt to match the total with taxes.

If the taxes are not equal to the spending, however, there is nothing to worry about. The deficit is added to the national debt ad infinitum.

"One of the curious things about the Eisenhower administration," observes Lloyd, "is that it has not made a virtue out of the rising trend of domestic expenditures. Here, if ever, is the chance to outdeal the Fair Deal, to point with pride to increased expenditures for welfare, for farmers, and for housing as evidence of a Republican concern for the well-being of the people. Such political opportunism seems to go against the grain even of modern Republicanism."

George Humphrey, former secretary of the treasury, is Lloyd's favorite target of scorn and sarcasm, as might be expected. Humphrey was another "poor boy" handicapped by the small-town idea that the people should have something to say about the burden of taxation placed on their shoulders by bureaucrats.

This, then, is going to be the battle of the budget in 1959 — not arithmetic but principle.

The new New Dealers — cross-bred between the old New Deal and the more recent Fair Deal — are preaching the doctrine of the economic budget.

Budgeting no longer is to be a process of balancing outgo and income but a process of deciding what would satisfy the Happiness-Through-Spending faction in Washington and rustling up the wherewithal to pay the bills, adding all unpaid items to the national debt.

"An annual increase in federal spending is inevitable anyway," says Lloyd. "But apparently the annual rate of increase we have had lately is not enough to do us much good." He suggests the budget should be 100 billion by now, instead of the 77 billion the President who "was once a poor boy in Abilene" says it should be.

Fact is, the rest of us Abilene boys think 77 billion is too steep, when it's remembered that we must pay local and state taxes, too. But the further fact is we're not national economic budgeteers — just taxpaying slobs who earn money so the Happiness-Through-Spending boys can get on with their social experiment.

There Finally Comes A Time

Whether you think of the Soviet Union's newest and most spectacular demonstration of missile mastery as a triumph of pure science or a demonstration of military power — or a great deal of each — there is nothing anyone can say to detract from its success.

There finally comes a time when there is nothing left to say. The United States brought about that kind of a vacuum of comment when it developed the first nuclear bombs.

It had experienced an absolute triumph. Nothing anyone could say would have any effect on what was done.

The Soviet Union clearly holds such a commanding lead in missile mastery that the United States can do nothing but defer to its superiority and work as hard as it knows how to catch up. It is a form of competition this country did not choose and in which it has been handicapped by the absence of a powerful compulsion "to do or die."

But if it is to be the shape of things in the future that nations must compete with one another in the development of rockets capable of spanning an ocean with a nuclear warhead, or carrying scientific instruments and ultimately human beings into space, the United States will acquire itself creditably.

This is now the armament race. Battleships, armies, airplanes and guns are going to be made obsolete by guided missiles. Competition for power on the earth will be carried on simultaneously with competition for power in space, which in turn will have direct bearing on power in earth.

The Soviet Union has a commanding lead. The United States recently took pride in the fact the second Atlas successfully launched by the Air Force went into orbit. The pride was justifiable, but not on the grounds that the Atlas was bigger than Sputnik III.

The size of the Atlas could not properly be compared with Sputnik III, which represented a payload of 2,919 pounds, against the smaller payload of about 150 pounds carried into orbit by the Atlas.

The Soviet Union's sun-circling "planet" is more than a third heavier than Sputnik III. This is the challenge of the Soviet Union's tremendous lead in missiles — a lead so commanding there is no immediate prospect of shortening it.

Not even the hysteria that immediately broke loose in Washington will have the slightest effect. Nor a zillion billion dollars, which will be proposed. Nothing but a tireless effort over the long pull to prove what Americans have been proving ever since czars, despots and kings of yesteryear tried to prove the contrary — that free men can survive and surpass by virtue of their freedom.

Senate Cherishes Right To Be Wrong

So many Americans are so dead-sure there is no defense for filibustering in the U.S. Senate they obviously never thought much about it.

The showdown that is forthcoming on this difficult issue cannot be called an open-and-shut case.

In the first place, the word "filibuster" is a harsh term for what otherwise might be called the right to stall a steamroller.

In the second place, though the right to talk a proposal to death has been used mainly by anti-civil rights orators in recent years, many other minorities have used filibusters to avoid being steam-rollered.

In the third place, in the House of Representatives, where debate can be limited and terminated, there has been nothing to prove that the right of unlimited debate in the Senate has been an adverse factor in representative democracy. The House has not proved its case.

It is true that filibusters have been used by some of the least admirable individuals and blocs in the Senate. It is true that they have been the favorite device of a type of senator with no claim to affection and respect. It is true that they are to some extent a denial of majority rule.

But it is likewise true that the Founding Fathers wanted to make sure the majority could not be used ruthlessly; the Senate's Rule XXII is in the constitutional spirit. Two thirds of the Senate can suspend it, moreover. But as long as it continues in force, there is no likelihood that debate ever will be limited.

And it is this knowledge hanging over the Senate which guarantees that nothing which would be obnoxious to more than a third of the members ever could be enacted. The attempt to change Rule XXII, which will be made early in the new Congress, is really an attempt to ride roughshod over a minority of states in the Union.

The excuse is that the minority is wrong because it is opposed to civil rights. But civil rights is only a passing issue. The right of unlimited debate is a procedural precedent.

By H. I. Phillips

Prosecutor: Don't be absurd. Under the new code you can be convicted without a confession.

Prisoner: My lawyer thought it might help in case the court lacked evidence. It could show my willingness to make things easier for you.

Judge: Proceed with the trial of this OPTIMIST.

(The trial continues and concludes.)

Judge: Does the defendant's lawyer wish to cross examine the state witnesses.

Counsel: No, I'm no fool.

Judge: Does the prisoner wish to say anything?

Prisoner: Only that I will go willingly.

DURING THE YULETIDE many communities reported wide thefts of lights from outdoor Christmas trees. This is like stealing another person's card conveying wishes for a happy New Year.

Public is still squawking over blackout of sell-out pro football games within 75 miles of game. Recent Giants-Colts imbroglio had been sold out long in advance. The telecast couldn't have lost a dime. Yet millions in wide area were kept from following the game on screen. Umpires should penalize pro football management 30 yards for unnecessary selfishness, roughing the general public and having too many cash register men on the field.

Two-Man Juggling Act

What Of The 'Public Interest' In Strikes?

By David Lawrence

The American people are unhappy about the strikes that have been depriving them of essential services. Members of Congress are hearing from the country about it.

Just what can be done? The right to strike has long been considered inherent in our constitutional system because the individual has the right to work or to quit work as he pleases. But where the public interest is damaged, the law can properly step in and restrict the right of any organized group to act concertedly in preventing others from working.

Thus, for example, there is no right to strike against the government itself, whether it be federal or state or city government. No body can be required to work for the government.

Actually, when the government seizes an industry, no union may tell its members not to work. To do so constitutes an interference with the court orders usually issued at the request of governmental authorities.

Labor unions are lawful insofar as they follow the individual desires of their members, but, where two or more persons act in concert to bring about the interruption of an essential service, there is opened a field for restriction. The law can limit such economic action. In this sense, a group of individuals has no more right to damage the public interest than has a corporation.

THE REMEDY heretofore applied has been government seizure of an essential industry. But this has never proved a satisfactory solution. It has in it elements of coercion, distasteful to a free society.

For years, students of the problem have examined a variety of proposed solutions.

The Taft-Hartley Act today provides for a no-strike moratorium for 80 days during a so-called "cooling-off" period. But a politically minded president can ignore it rather than antagonize those labor leaders who supported him in his election campaign. So it is not desirable to make any solution dependent upon presidential discretion. Likewise, because it is known that after 80 days the same situation will arise as before, the tendency is to wait out the period and go at the fight again.

In wartime, there have been laws providing for seizure when a serious strike is threatened.

Seizure as a last resort is probably one answer, even in peacetime, to a deadlock. But there have been other suggestions from labor experts in the last half century that have never been given a trial and which would seem to promise better results.

Thus, the idea of mandatory arbitration, if no agreement is reached during a fixed period of negotiation, has always been given moral support by disinterested observers.

The trouble with the plan is that impartial arbitrators are not easy to get. There has been in the past talk in Congress of setting up a labor court for strike emergencies, to be composed of judges selected from a panel of federal jurists regularly on the bench.

THE LABOR UNIONS have not liked this approach because they have believed it legalistic and that the decisions are not likely to penetrate the human questions that frequently give rise to deadlocks in negotiations — matters of holidays and pensions and other "fringe" benefits.

Employers, on the other hand, have feared that arbitrators would ignore the financial capacity of a smaller company competing with a larger one, or else that too much power would be given the neutral arbitrator because, as a rule, each side picks an arbitrator and the two select a third, who is supposed to be neutral.

Arbitrators selected for a single task like this are often plagued by the after-effects of their decisions.

If laws were passed providing some system whereby a permanent panel of arbitrators, comprising outstanding persons in every industry, were established — with all three arbitrators assigned by the government — there might be a better chance for the principle of arbitration to be accepted.

Union labor has more to gain than to lose in finding some substitute for the strike weapon.

The economic losses to the country from recent strikes were staggering. The amount gained by the unions is infinitesimal compared to the indirect losses they have suffered.

Also, as public opinion becomes irritated and antagonized by frequent strikes, the whole cause of self-organization may be impaired by hostile legislation.

GOVERNMENTAL authority today fixes the rates to be charged to customers by public utilities. But no public body fixes the wages that may be charged which can force those rates upward.

The same principle applies to the non-utility businesses. The government fixes the percentage of profit left to a business after taxes, but says nothing when the company's expenses are forced upward by higher payrolls that diminish the government's total receipts and also perhaps force the employer into the red, with no tax revenues for the government at all.

The "public interest" in labor disputes is far-reaching. Some day real statesmanship will have to be displayed in Congress to find a solution that is fair to the worker and to the employer and to the public, which the government represents.

What seems logical is a system of arbitration, made mandatory perhaps only after federal mediators have reported that one side or the other in an essential industry has adopted an unreasonable and arbitrary position which can severely damage the public interest through a prolonged strike.

The Pileup Rate

By Truman Twill

Desk work, as we swallow specimens who move about like wraiths under fluorescent lights can testify, is simple, once you get the hang of it.

Management merely asks you to keep a certain amount of order on a flat place approximately 15 feet square. It is like being a hot-house white-wing, with a wastebasket instead of a cart.

The only trick is how to balance the pass-on rate with the pileup rate. And for this, management pays money. It is easy — once you get the hang of it.

But getting the hang of it is not easy at all. It is as hard as learning how to be a steel rigger and walk a 10-inch girder a thousand feet in the air without going into a tailspin.

But there are two trade secrets worth passing on at the dawn of another new year when desk workers worth their paper clips are starting with clean desk tops.

One is the quid-pro-quo technique: For every bit of clutter dumped on your desk by some inconsiderate chump who didn't know what else to do with it, pass on a bit of clutter to someone else.

The other is the brushoff gambit: When it is impossible to decide what to do with a piece of paper that is too good for wastepaper and not good enough to file, place same on edge of desk, brush it off with a careless gesture of the arm and let it lie.

The logic in both cases is the same. In the era of paper-shuffling, there is nothing of any real importance, except to keep the paper in motion. The paper, itself, has no value.

Everybody lives in dread of a slowdown in its rate of motion, which would indicate that someone was not on his toes and too preoccupied with something else to open his mail and keep abreast of his memos. There would be an investigation and a culprit.

So keep the paper moving! Read and pass on! File and forget! Process and peruse! Scribble a marginal note to show the world you're thinking.

Underscore a trenchant passage! Put a crisp check mark in the margin to direct attention to the meat of the message! Direct the attention of J.B. or W.R. to some remark that will show how great minds get together on great truths!

Make a 200-word digest! Order 50 copies made on the copying machine! Give cryptic instructions to someone further along the line to save the thing for future reference!

Or pull the wastebasket up close for the brushoff gambit. Take some old junk out of the file and throw it away to make room for some new junk. A clean desk is the sign of a clean mind.

That is all there is to desk work, and every old-timer in the racket wishes a happy new year to every newcomer.

The wastebasket, at this time of the year, is filled to overflowing by noon every day. The desk workers are starting the new year right.

Predictions On Congress

By James Marlow

Scoreboard Tells The Story On Things To Come

WASHINGTON Three predictions about the new Congress seem safe: It will be more liberal-minded than its predecessor; a big fight among Democrats is unlikely; the split among Republicans will probably continue.

These predictions have their roots in the November elections where the voters, showing distaste for Republican conservatives, gave the Democrats overwhelming majorities in House and Senate.

A look at the score-card tells the story. Last year Democrats outnumbered Republicans in the House 235-200, this year 283-153. Last year Democrats outnumbered Senate Republicans by a paper-thin 49-47; this year 64-34.

Now a bloc of liberal Senate Republicans, interpreting the election as a demand for more progressive Republicanism, are trying to take over the leadership from a band of Republican conservatives.

They may lose. But, having declared themselves, they can hardly line up on the conservative side for the rest of 1959.

The fight that broke out Monday among House Republicans over their leadership is of a different kind, looks more like a power struggle. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana wants to unseat Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, with whom he worked hand-in-glove for years. Both are conservatives.

The wounds inflicted in such an intraparty fight are not the kind to heal fast.

The Democrats, of course, will have some troubles among themselves. Among them, a bloc of Northern Democrats will fight Southern Democrats over making it easier to smash a Senate filibuster. This isn't strictly intraparty. Some Republicans will line up with Southern Democrats, some with the Northern Democrats.

The elections gave the Democrats an infusion of new blood in both houses. This is bound to have an effect on the two Democratic Texans who head the two houses; Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. They also tend to be conservative.

Rayburn and Johnson are both conscious of the implications in the last election and the more Democrats they have to deal with the more concessions they will have to make to line up solid Democratic support.

Rayburn and Johnson are both master politicians. They have probably had no superiors in this century in congressional leadership. Probably none has been more influential in getting what he wanted done.

Rayburn was supposed to have faced a fight from liberal House Democrats over the House Rules Committee which has been a traditional citadel for Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans.

This committee, under House rules, has been able to bottle up legislation its members didn't like. There was supposed to have been a fight to break this committee's power. Now Rayburn reportedly has put out the fire before it started.

In the Senate Johnson has been a magician in getting fellow Democrats to work with him. He has to make concessions and grant favors to get cooperation. You can be sure he's doing the same with the new Democrats already.

Nevertheless, just because he has to make concessions, Johnson will be under pressure from the newcomers and the more liberal-minded Democrats to steer away from a too-conservative course. He saw what happened to the Republicans.

Plenty To Talk About

Newspapers' Role In Daily Life Stressed

PHILADELPHIA

Take any average day of the old year and 86,300,000 Americans were talking about something they had read in newspapers.

And of that vast number discussing what they had read in the papers each day, 55 per cent of the conversation had to do with national news, the remaining 45 per cent with local and regional items.

These and other what-people-talk-about findings have been disclosed by Sindlinger and Co., business analysts, in a year-end summary based on the firm's weekly reports.

It was determined that 75,700,000 talked about something they had seen on television; 30,100,000 about something they had read in magazines; 34,400,000 about current movies; and 32,100,000 about radio programs, mostly disc jockeys.

The 10 most talked about national stories, as stimulated by newspapers, were the crisis in Lebanon, the November election returns, the Lana Turner affair, the February snowstorms, the death of Pope Pius XII, Vice President Nixon's visit to South America, the Explorer satellite, integration, the Charles Starkweather murders and the Sherman Adams-Bernard Goldfine case.

The most talked about special television program in 1958 was a play, "Harvey," starring Art Carney and presented in September. The Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City the same month was a close runner-up.

The most talked about regular TV program or personality was Ed Sullivan. Next came "I Love Lucy."

"The Bridge on the River Kwai," starring the newly knighted Alec Guinness, was the most talked about movie. Runner-up was "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," starring Elizabeth Taylor.

Sindlinger's figures are projections of daily interviews of cross-sections of the public in 287 counties in all the states. A field staff of nearly 350 does the interviewing.

Another Precious Metal

A metal more precious than gold may some day help send rockets to Mars.

The metal is cesium, still little known outside scientific circles. It costs about $750 a pound.

Cesium could be used in the ion rocket engines now under study. In the new type of engine, a nuclear-powered turbine generates an electric current.

The current creates a magnetic field which accelerates ions — charged atomic particles — of such elements as cesium to speeds reaching 400,000 miles an hour. The ions are spewed out of the engine and the reaction gives the engine a forward thrust. Cesium is high on the list of possible propellants because it is easy to ionize.

An ion rocket engine would operate far more efficiently and longer than today's chemical rocket engines, but its thrust would be much smaller.

Hence, a Mars-bound vehicle would have to be hoisted into space by a regular chemical rocket engine. Once free of the earth's gravitational pull, the ion engine would take over for the rest of the 40-million-mile voyage through space, where little thrust is needed.

Cesium was unknown less than a century ago. Its discovery was made possible by the spectroscope — an instrument that reveals the component wave-lengths in a beam of light.

Maggianetti Says 'Goodbyes' At His Last Council Meeting

Attending the last Council session before his resignation takes effect next Monday, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti said an official farewell to the members last night.

Maggianetti thanked the councilmen for their co-operation in his year's tenure and commented that the relationship has been "cordial." Closing, he wished "the very best for the community."

"I wish to express my appreciation for your co-operation in the last year, as this is the last of your meetings I will be attending," the director said. "I hope that I have done nothing to offend you and, if so, I apologize at this time. It has been a cordial relationship."

"This has been a wonderful relationship working with our mayor and I will long remember it," Maggianetti said. "If there is anything I can do in the future, my services will always be available. It is heart-warming to know I have made many friends. I have received many wonderful letters in the last few weeks. I wish all of you God-speed and I wish the very best for the community." Council President B. E. Warner replied:

"I don't feel that you have done anything to hurt the feelings of any one here and I don't believe you should feel apologetic toward the city or this Council. In my opinion, you have done an excellent job under trying circumstances. Naturally, you can't please all of the people in your job. I wish you a great deal of success in whatever you do in the future."

Councilman George E. Willshaw also praised the director, pointing out he was not present at the session Dec. 15 when the director's resignation was presented.

"It has been a pleasure knowing you and it has been a pleasure working with you," he said. "I want to wish the best for you." "I wish you happiness in anything you do," Councilman A. Stanley Kidder commented. "It has been a pleasure knowing and working with you."

Council Amends Or Revokes 4 City Licensing Ordinances

Legislation amending or revoking four antedated city licensing ordinances, the result of a study that goes back to early 1958, was approved by Council Monday night.

Council repealed licensing regulations that formerly required 50-cent annual fees for beauty and barbershop operations, cut back the annual license fee for motion picture theaters and amended legislation licensing circus exhibitions here.

The preamble to the ordinance revoking the requirement for beauty and barbershop permits explained that local regulation no longer is required, as the two operations are governed by state agencies. At the time the ordinance was passed, there was no state regulation.

Council enacted another ordinance fixing a flat $50 annual fee for motion picture houses, also affecting "theatrical or vaudeville performances" staged for profit. Under the former license ordinance, a theater paid a fee of $50 to $180, depending upon seating capacity. The new ordinance allows issuance of a $5 license in cases of one-night stands. It exempts performances staged for "religious, educational, benevolent or charitable" purposes.

Another ordinance enacted last night fixes a flat fee of $75 a day for a circus performance. Formerly, the legislation required $75 from a "large circus" and $50 for a "small circus," without explaining the two terms.

A new section requires the circus operator to post a $1,000 bond.

Trustees Re-Elected By City Hospital Group

Five trustees were re-elected by the City Hospital Association during a meeting Monday night at the hospital.

Returned for three-year terms were W. A. Betz, David G. Boyce, James H. Grafton, Everson Hall and Atty. Samuel Chertoff.

Physicians elected by the hospital staff, also for three-year terms, were Dr. R. C. Costello and Dr. W. J. Horgner. They replaced Dr. V. E. McDowd and Dr. C. A. Gerace.

Betz was returned as secretary and J. M. Wells as president.

Attorney Cites Manuscript For Expenses Claim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Van Wert, Ohio, attorney argued in tax court Monday that a manuscript entitled "Margaret's Diary" was the reason he claimed $6,500 expenses for a world tour.

Kerns Wright, 64, served as his own attorney before Judge W. M. Drennen, arguing he incurred the expenses—mostly on the tour—in helping his wife Margaret write a book. He said the manuscript has been turned down by seven publishers.

Maurice Townsend, attorney for the Internal Revenue Service, said the government disallowed the expense claim on Wright's income tax report because he was not primarily in the business of writing books for profit.

Judge Drennen, who is conducting tax court in the Cuyahoga County courthouse for two weeks, will reach a decision after returning to Washington.

Wright told the court he had written some books on real property law 12 years ago. In 1954, before starting the world trip, he consulted a literary agent about writing a book. He said the agent advised him the book should be written by his wife in diary form.

Wright made notes on his wife's observations and helped her prepare the 128,000-word manuscript. He said he hoped the judge will look it over and find it more interesting than the publishers have.

Ohio Bell Plans To Reach 100% In Dial Operation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will spend about 76 million dollars this year to expand its service and reach 100 per cent dial operation.

This was announced Monday by President Walter S. Sparling, who said at a news conference that the last of the manually operated telephones will disappear from Ohio Bell territory during the late summer.

In the Greater Cleveland area, about 19 million dollars will be spent by the firm. Cleveland telephone users will be able to dial their own long distance calls to cities from coast to coast and as far north as Alaska.

A "metro" calling system will eliminate the multi-message on the cross-country calls. The new system will be in use about March 1 and will be part of a five million dollar project.

Woman Convicted

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carson Hoy Monday convicted Mrs. Austin Dow, 46, of first degree manslaughter in the knifing death of Samuel Hudson, 46, at the home here where both lived. The criminal court judge set sentence of 1-20 years in Marysville Reformatory on the conviction. Mrs. Dow contended she acted in self-defense last Aug. 8 after a quarrel.

Father Returns Daughter To Pen After Her Escape

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Mary Ann Gardner headed home to El Monte, Calif., after escaping the Idaho Penitentiary Dec. 28. Monday, her father brought her back.

Al Gardner stayed only long enough to surrender his 21-year-old daughter to Warden L. E. Clapp. Then he, his wife and a grandmother started home.

Clapp said he suggested Gardner turn his daughter over to California officers when the father telephoned last weekend. "No, I'll take her back myself," he quoted

Gardner. "We'll drive all night if necessary."

He described the father as "quite a forceful man on his ideas of right and wrong. There was only one thing in his mind and that was to bring her back."

Miss Gardner, serving a forgery term, fled with two other women inmates. One remains at large. El Monte is 900 miles from here.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't tell me my story is so old I can put it to music and dance to it. (You see I've been reading you closely!) I don't want advice designed for someone else. I am me and I need special help.

I've been married once (age 17) and it lasted two horrible years. Now I'm 33, older and wiser, and I have my eye on a bachelor. The trouble is, just when I think I've got him some friend pops up with a business deal and he suddenly finds himself "too broke for marriage."

The guy is 42, handsome, fascinating, romantic and life says he loves me. He has gone for phony oil stocks, a new carbonated drink and last July he bought part of a rock quarry that belonged to the state of Wisconsin.

I have invested four years of my time on this guy and don't want to quit too soon. What is your honest opinion? If you can suggest something constructive I would be grateful. — CHA CHA CHA.

Dear Cha Cha Cha (You're dancing?): The gentleman isn't 42 and a bachelor for nothing. If he's actually getting involved in bum deals perhaps he is unconsciously keeping himself broke as protection against marriage.

Let him have 60 days in which to marry you or give up the ghost for good. If he falls for another pie-in-the-sky deal tell him it's been nice and goodbye.

special held and I hope your child gets it.

Stutterer Needs Help

Dear Ann: Our 5-year-old son stutters badly and it's beginning to worry me. I hoped he'd outgrow it but it seems to be getting worse instead of better.

My husband becomes impatient with the boy, ridicules him and gets him so worked up he cries. When my mother is present and the child stutters she makes him stop and start over again and repeat each word slowly. She says this will help but I'm afraid she's wrong. Now he seldom speaks in her presence.

Please give me some help with my boy if you can. Our two older children never had this problem and I am at a loss. — DORA.

Dear Dora: Stuttering is a symptom of other problems and should be handled with patience and understanding. Your husband is cruel to make fun of the child. Insist that he stop it at once. (This man is an adult?)

The stuttering child should not be made to repeat himself. This only makes him more self-conscious. Check with a college or university in your area and learn if there are any corrective speech classes. Check also on private clinics. The stutterer needs by a trio, Mrs. Anna Morgan, Mrs. Guinn and Mrs. Lloyd, accompanied by Mrs. Minor. Group singing of hymns was accompanied by Miss Isa Anderson. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Clara Michaels and the co-hostess.

The February hostess, Mrs. Isabel Dickey of Broadway, will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Robb.

A family get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boals of Salineville R.D. 1 Sunday in honor of their son, Spl. 4C Larry Dean Boals, who is home on 30-day furlough from Germany.

Specialist Boals will return Thursday to Germany, where he is engaged in construction with the 503rd Engineers Co. He enlisted in July 1957 and has been overseas since November 1957.

A buffet supper was served and pictures were taken.

The auxiliary of American Legion Post 121 will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the post home.

The Executive Board will meet at 7:30.

Mrs. John Rice and Mrs. Wood Moore will be hostesses at a meeting of the Fairview Farm Women's Club Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Council, Board To Share In Cost Of Signal

Traffic Light Set For Lisbon Corner Instead Of Guards

LISBON — The purchase of a traffic signal for Thomas Rd. and W. Lincoln Way was authorized by Council and the Lisbon Board of Education Monday night.

The board agreed to pay $150 as its share of the signal, which will be used at the intersection to replace school guards. Council will pay for the remainder of the expense of the installation of the light, which will operate between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

During other hours, the signal will be a caution blinker on W. Lincoln Way and a red stop signal on Thomas Rd.

In other action, Council agreed to remove a parking meter on E. Chestnut St. at the request of George Varga of North Canton, who plans to make a driveway into a parking lot adjacent to the building housing the IGA Food-liner Market and Hawk Bowling Alleys. Varga will repair the sidewalk at the site.

A discussion was held on proposed one-side parking on W. Washington St. from Lincoln to Green Sts., but no action was taken. At present, parking is permitted on both sides of the street, allowing only one lane of traffic flow.

Mayor John Todd reported a total of $761.60 collected in fines and license fees in December. The total included $417.10 from State Highway Patrol cases, $173.20 from village cases, $145.50 from parking meters and $25.80 from bicycle licenses.

Thirl Flanagan, temporary fire chief, reported Allen Peters has been named assistant chief in a reorganization of the fire department. Al Fitch has been named captain; Lester Moore, lieutenant; and William Martin, secretary.

Clerk Ray Hempstead reported the current bond obligation stands at $398,000. The total at the end of 1957 was $413,720, and during 1958 the village retired $15,720 in bonds, he said.

Council will meet again Jan. 26.

Lawrence

the total millage being 18.6, a reduction of half a mill.

The rates will be 4.2 mills inside the 10 - mill limitation and 11 mills outside for the general fund, both of which are unchanged from last year.

Bond retirement millage was cut back from 3.9 to 3.4 mills, Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, said.

The school district valuation has been increased roughly $1 million from $45,999,640 to $47,034,736, she reported, providing an estimated $15,000 more for operating funds. The budget was set up on the $45 million valuation which yielded approximately $700,000. The new valuation is expected to produce about $715,000.

About $719,250 will be needed to retire bonds this year and the 3.4 mills will provide about $160,000. With a balance of $29,000 from last year, the bond retirement balance should be reduced to approximately $9,000 at the end of the year, she said.

Miss Liebschner reported a balance of $158,058.38 in school funds, including $119,632.11 in the general fund, $29,105.11 in bond retirement, $7,669.33 in the cafeteria fund, $977.65 in the improvement fund, $233.91 in the workbook account, $15 in firemen training, $139.60 in carpenter training, $16.50 in foremen training and $269.17 in night school.

Lawrence was the only nominee for president. He was nominated by Lowe, who remarked, "I have always been of the opinion that anyone who perpetuates himself in office loses a little keenness."

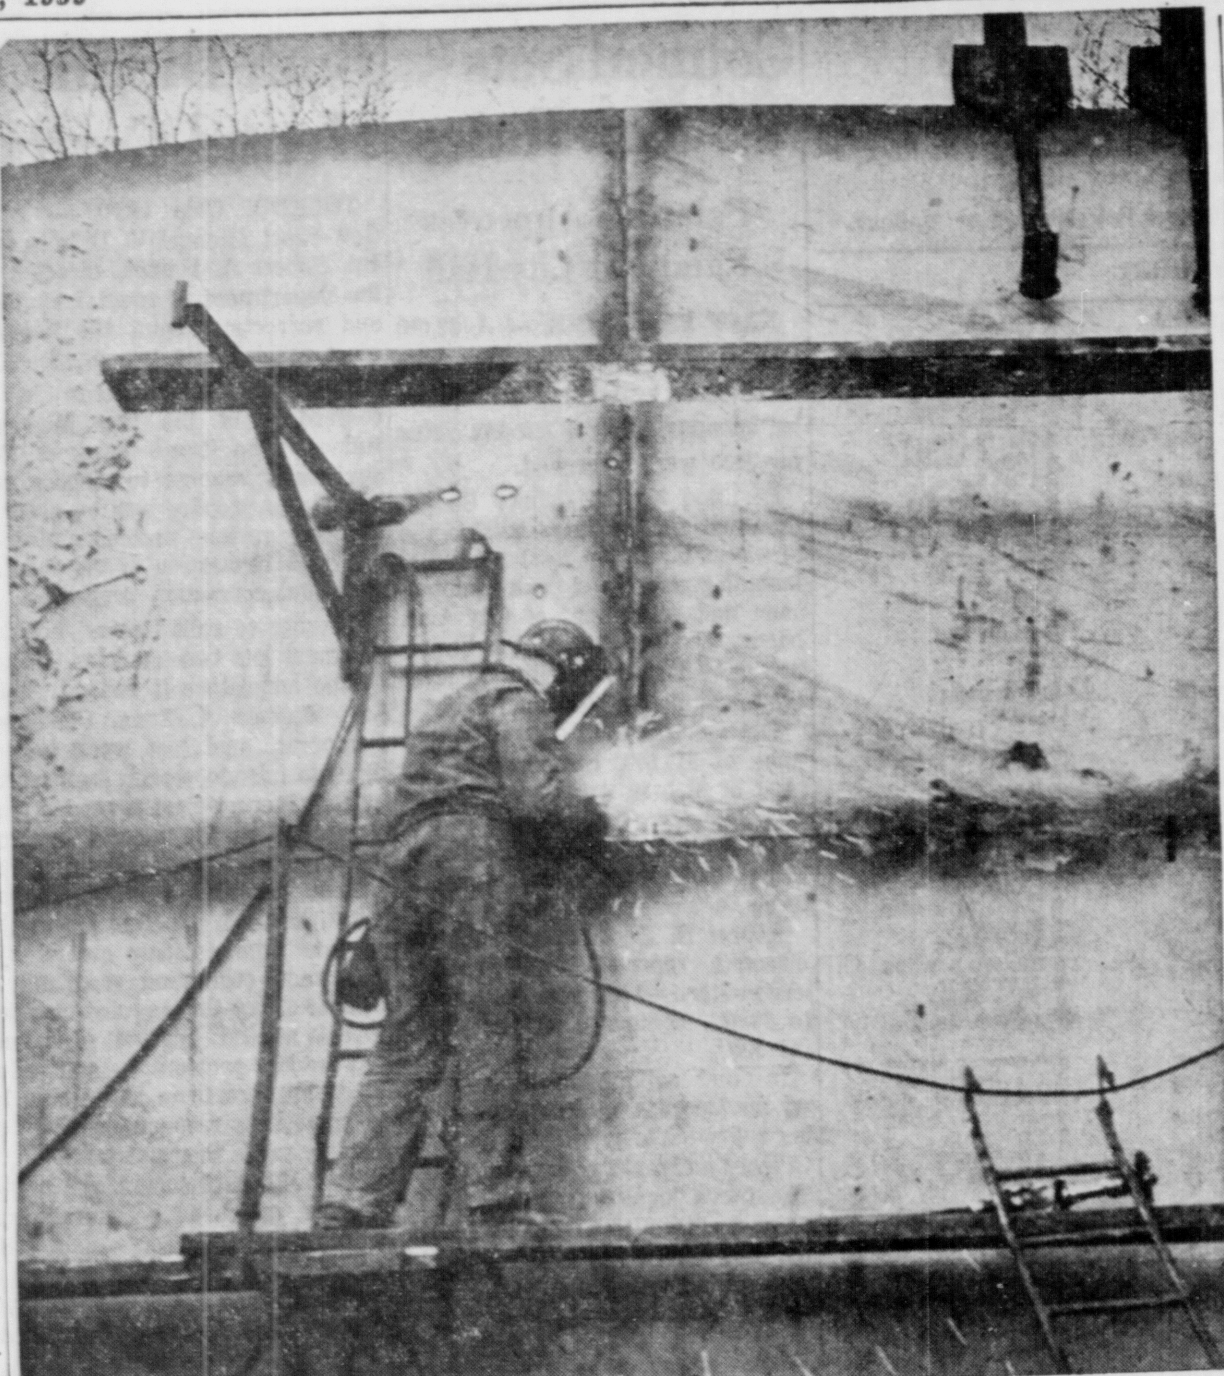

Lawrence, an employee of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., was elected to the board in 1953, serving from 1954 to 1957 and then being re-elected for another four - year term expiring Dec. 31, 1961.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School and Miami (O.), University, he has been active in school affairs, serving as chairman of the committee that backed passage of the school bond issue in 1951.

He is a past president of the Lions Club, East Liverpool Life Underwriters Association and East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society and is a member of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church, Riddle Masonic Lodge and Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge.

Further Action Due

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service plans further action against Cristobal Alvarado, 27, a Cuban national taken into custody with a load of arms and bullets destined for Castro rebel forces in his homeland. A spokesman said Monday that Alvarado's visa had expired in 1955. His companion, Miss Isabel Monal, 27, an exchange student at Harvard, would be freed, he said, since her visa is good until June.

'Set Traps For Future'

Essence Of Geophysical Year Cited By Dr. Bartels

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Over a luncheon table, Germany's Dr. Julius Bartels searched a moment for the right words:

"We set out traps for nature. Then when nature does something, we often learn her secrets."

To Bartels, professor of geomagnetism at the University in Goettingen, this was the essence of the IGY, the 18-month International Geophysical Year which just ended.

It brought the greatest single hunt in history for knowledge — about earth, sun, weather, and the new province of space into which humans are eagerly reaching.

The traps for nature were tended by 30,000 scientists and volunteers from 66 nations in a huge cooperative effort.

Now nature is yielding a treasury of secrets.

The full wealth of meaning and significance, however, must await months or years while scientists analyze the literally millions of observations concerning weather, gravity, electrical phenomena, and other forces and events affecting the destiny of the earth and its people. Practical benefits are bound to come from IGY.

The sun, our life-giving star, was one main focus of IGY.

For every minute of 18 months, the sun was held under constant watch by 100 observatories around the world, to count its stormy sunspots, record its gigantic flares, or explosions which often choke off radio communications and hang the shimmering Northern Lights in our sky.

And the sun obliged, staging the greatest sunspot activity since 1776.

Special rockets soaring up for brief glimpses discovered that flares shoot out great bursts of X-rays. X-rays always are beaming out of the sun. It's the added X-rays from flares which apparently cause radio fadeouts on earth.

For the first time, rockets reached above obscuring clouds during an eclipse of the sun, learning that the solar X-rays stem from the sun's corona atmosphere, not its disk.

Other rockets, looking into space with eyes tuned to see only ultraviolet light, found that some stars are wrapped with nebulous radiation not explainable by the energy the stars are thought to possess.

IGY scientists set their traps to learn what these bombardments do to the earth's magnetism and electrified ionosphere, and what actually happens on the sun. Out of it all could come knowledge to achieve limitless energy for man's machines and power stations on earth.

Rockets flying 50 to 150 miles up found the earth's atmosphere to be perhaps 10 times denser at high altitudes than had been thought, with strong daily and seasonal variations — factors influencing weather.

A huge surprise was discovery through U. S. Satellites of two great and hazardous bands of radiation ringing the earth at altitudes of 1,400 to 8,000 miles.

2 Given Posts On City Board

Last Vacancy Filled By Mayor's Action

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence today appointed two men to the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, filling the last of the year - end vacancies on city boards.

The appointments went to: Gordon E. Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., to fill the unexpired term of the late Thomas H. Fisher, who was president of the First National Bank, and C. Walter Ashbaugh of the S. C. Williams Co., replacing R. L. Cawood.

Cawood, a veteran member, asked to be relieved of further service because he is absent from the city frequently, the mayor explained.

Earlier, the mayor reappointed two others to unsalaried posts. He returned Emil R. Liebschner Jr. to the Health Board and renamed Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr. to the Board of Commissioners of Thompson Park.

The Sinking Fund Commission administers retirement of the city's bonded debt. It has two hold-over members — William J. Bamer, whose term runs through 1959, and William B. Cooper, 1960. William Gaston is clerk.

Traffic Death Charge Faces Trucker Here

A 27-year-old East Liverpool man was taken into custody Monday afternoon by local police on a secret indictment for second degree manslaughter returned by the Tuscarawas County Grand Jury at New Philadelphia in connection with the traffic death of an auto passenger last Sept. 28.

Donald Paul Smith of Burrows Ave. was turned over to Tuscarawas County authorities last night for arraignment, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said.

The Tuscarawas prosecutor's office said Smith was indicted in connection with the death of Emerson Welsh, 42, a prominent Port Washington businessman. Welsh was a passenger in an auto driven by his brother, Theodore Welsh, 57, also of Port Washington, that was struck from the rear by Smith's truck Sept. 25 on Route 36 four miles east of Port Washington.

Emerson Welsh died three days later of a crushed chest and a punctured lung. His brother escaped with minor injuries. The prosecutor's office alleged that Smith's truck hit the Welsh car from the rear, knocking it 50 feet and causing it to overturn twice. Later, Smith was fined $25.20 in mayor's court at Uhrichsville on a charge of following another auto too closely.

Silvers Debates When To Change

Marie Torre

The old saw about not breaking up a winning combination requires alteration when the subject is television. Winning combinations manage to retain a durable quality in all fields but television, which is by nature a medium in high gear.

"Know when to break up a winning combination!" is the important thing in television, and it is a measure of comedian Phil Silvers' perspicacity that the thought occurs to him.

His intuition tells him that the time has come to discard Sgt. Bilko's Army barracks, which have been collecting dust almost four years, and replace them with an all-new setting and situation.

"I'd still be Bilko, but out of the Army," explains Silvers.

SUCH A CHANGE could infuse new vitality into the show, make it talked about, noted by the critics and put Silvers into orbit for another long stretch at the peak of television stardom.

That's not to say that Bilko and platoon are showing signs of rating decline at the moment. The show has been averaging a Trendex of 22.0, good for a Friday night, and all parties concerned — CBS, sponsor, agency representatives — are inclined to go along with the old thought that you don't break up a winning combination.

It's "safe" for TV executives to think that way. But mighty risky for Silvers. Viewers do tire of things familiar, according to TV history, and a drop of a few rating points could fire the executive pack to such declarations as "Silvers has had it."

It seems, however, that those around him are succeeding in convincing him that what's good to-day still will be good two years from now.

"Maybe they're right," says Silvers with a mixture of hope and uncertainty. "I always thought we could go this long with an Army show, but not longer. My hunches are normally pessimistic. However, they tell me I'm wrong and I'm ready to believe them. They say there's still about two years of life in the old format."

SHOULD the comedy prove an exception and maintain its lofty status with the same old Sgt. Bilko chicanery through the next couple of years it'll be because Bilko tried.

"My attitude toward the show has never relaxed — I don't know how to rest on my laurels, if you know what I mean," remarked the comedian, whose restlessness takes him to Europe this summer for the filming of half a dozen episodes, one of which may include the highly respected British actor, Alec Guinness.

"I've always," added Silvers, "worked by the rule, 'when in doubt, do your best.'"

Time will tell whether Sgt. Bilko's "best" will be good enough for another two years on TV — un-

Dentist Heads School Board For Hancock

Dr. Dale Williams Is Named President In Place Of Chesterite

Dr. Dale Williams, a New Cumberland dentist, was elected president of the Hancock County Board of Education at a reorganizational meeting Monday night in the high school at the county seat.

He succeeds R. G. Stewart of Chester. It was the initial session for Mrs. Mary Swartz of Weirton, elected in 1958 as the county's first woman member.

In other business, the board approved plans and specifications for a new elementary school at Pugh-ton submitted by Ray Shaw, architect, and employed a new teacher at a Chester grade school.

The board authorized Supt. Robert H. Hall to advertise for bids on the new building, expected to cost around $340,000. Bids are to be received by Feb. 9 at 8 p.m. in New Cumberland High School.

The building is to contain 14 rooms and furniture and will replace the present Pughtown elementary building.

Mrs. Chloe Jester was employed as a teacher for Chester Central School. Extension of a sick leave was approved for Mrs. Pearl D. Harbert for the balance of the school term. She formerly taught at Weirton Dunbar School.

Supt. Hall was also authorized to complete a schedule of budget transfers to comply with a State Board of School Finance directive to place 5 per cent of state aid funds in reserve.

The action came after an announcement by state officials that they have under study and review a 5 per cent reduction in state aid which will result in a loss of $26,000 yearly in the school system.

Also approved was a change order requested by Shaw calling for extension of ceramic tile to locker height in rooms of the Weirton Broadview School. It amounted to $671.

The board also heard the secretary's financial report for December, a report on statement of receipts from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1958, and reports of the 4-H Club agent and school nurse for December.

The next meeting will be Feb. 9 when bids will be opened on the Pughtown project.

Salaries Boosted For Teachers Of Special Classes

Salaries of $200 and $300 above the regular salary schedule for teachers of three special education classes were established Monday night by the Board of Education.

Teachers holding only temporary certificates will receive $200 additional, while those with provisional, professional or permanent certificates will get $300 extra.

The board now has three special education classes for slow learners. The classes are held at Klondyke, Garfield and Pleasant Heights.

John Javens was appointed a high school English teacher replacing Mrs. Betty Jane Cooper, who has agreed to finish out this term.

The board also approved the rental of the general purpose room at Westgate School for a series of lectures on the stock market operation Jan. 12, Feb. 2, March 2 and April 6. A temporary rental fee of $5 was set for the room.

OK's Salary Boosts

Karaffa Shakes Up Potters In Bid To Snap Losing Streak

Sophomores Are Elevated, 3 Seniors Cut

After five straight games at home, East Liverpool's Potters hit the road tonight for the first time since Dec. 6 to oppose the Weirton Red Riders at the Weirton Community Center.

Preliminary reserve action will get under way at 7.

In the wake of six defeats in seven games, Potter coach John Karaffa Monday announced the dismissal of three seniors from the varsity unit and the elevation of three scrappy sophomores.

Karaffa said George Owens, Glenn Cunningham and Clark Hager had been dropped from the team and that the sophomore trio — Cliff Goodballet, Ron Clark and Mike Geon—have been given varsity status.

Karaffa added that the move was made with an eye toward next year. He pointed out the three sophomores should gain valuable experience in the next 11 regular season games and provide a nucleus for 1959-60.

Of the three moved up from the reserve squad, only Clark, a 5-8 guard, will move directly into the starting varsity five for tonight's eighth game of the season.

Clark, a jump shot specialist, scrappy Goodballet and Geon all showed promise of developing into sure varsity material in reserve games this year. In addition to being a good shot from around the foul circle, Clark is also a standout dribbler and a hustling defensive player.

Karaffa's 12-man varsity contingent now includes five sophomores, five juniors and only two seniors—Bob Beatty, 6-3, and Jan Allen, 5-10, the team's only returning letterman.

Juniors Phil Chan and Jim Mahone, who had dressed for previous varsity games, will now play reserve ball, Karaffa said.

In addition to Clark, tonight's starting five will include another sophomore flash, Ken Cunningham, plus Beatty and Craig Burdick, a junior. The fifth position is still undecided as junior center Ray Bigelow may not be fully recovered from a recent head injury.

If Bigelow, a 6-5 center, is not able to answer the starting whistle, either Allen or Bob Mackall, also a junior, will start.

The three dismissed seniors, although not breaking into the action for any great length of time, had scored 25 points among them. Cunningham had 6, Owens 10 and Hager 9.

Ken Cunningham, well on his way to becoming one of the school's most prolific scorers, is carrying the scoring load this year, with 112 points for an average of 16 a game.

In Weirton, the Potters will face a team that has won five of seven games, including the last four in a row over Clarksburg Victory, Bellaire, Wellsburg and Follansbee.

Coach Jim Carey's Red Riders were defeated by Wheeling Central, 50-41, in the season's opener, and Farrell, 59-38. The Wheeling club is still undefeated with a 6-0 season record. Farrell whipped the Potters 54-31.

Weirton, not primarily a high scoring outfit, is led by two towering cagers in Mike Tomasovich, a 6-4 All-West Virginia football end, and Willie Tucker, 6-4 high jumping center.

Bob Gajka, Vince Monseau, Fred Gaston and Floyd Shuler are the other players who usually start or see the most action.

Weirton is averaging 52.2 points a game to 50.7 by the Potters. East Liverpool and Weirton have split eight games since the teams began meeting in 1935. East Liverpool triumphed in the last encounter, 39-38, in 1947.

Baldwin Shatters Bevo's Record At Wellsville

All-Ohio candidate Dan Baldwin, breezing along at a 25.1 points per game clip this season, has eclipsed a scoring record at Wellsville set by the great Clarence (Bevo) Francis for the most points ever scored, career-wise.

The 6-foot, 2-inch senior, a three year varsity letterman, owns the new record with a total of 837 points in three years. The old record owned by Francis, former 6-9 Rio Grande College standout who gained national fame, was 776 — scored in his one season at Wellsville.

Baldwin went over the 300-point mark in his sophomore and junior years with the Tigers, hitting 322 as a sophomore and 339 last year. His 64 field goals and 48 free throws in seven games this season gave him 837 points over a three-year span.

Jump shot artist Jim Yost nearly reached Francis' mark in two years but wasn't a varsity starter until a junior. Yost scored 316 as a junior and 410 as a senior for a 726 total. Southpaw Pick Rolley, now at Adrian, Mich., scored 203 as a junior and 472 as a senior for 675.

With 11 more regular season games ahead of him, the hard-working Baldwin should hit well over the 1,000 points mark in his career with the Tigers.

All records are unofficial, however, and were taken from the only data available. It was announced as official, however, that Francis' 776 points were the most ever scored by a Wellsville player and Baldwin, an Eagle scout, went over that mark with a 25-point outburst against Mingo on Dec. 16. Francis still retains records of having the most points ever scored in one season and the most for one game.

'Big O' Receives Help In Double Overtime Tilt

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
It turns out the Cincinnati Bearcats' basketball roster doesn't begin with Oscar and end with Robertson.

The mighty Big O of Cincy had some help Monday night as he and his mates survived their second Missouri Valley Conference test of the season. With Ralph Davis and Mike Mendenhall, Cincinnati battled through two overtimes to nip the previously unbeaten Bradley Braves, 85-84.

Previously Cincinnati turned back touted St. Louis 57-50 in the Bearcats' Missouri Valley opener. All-America Oscar led the scoring with 23 points (slicing his average to 34.5) but it was Mendenhall's rebounding and Davis' five-point spurge in the second overtime that got the job done. Together, they also combined for 37 points, with Mendenhall getting 19.

The Cincinnati-Bradley match of power was the feature of a Monday college program that had eleven of the nation's top 20 teams in action. Only Bradley (No. 9 in this week's AP poll to No. 7 for Cincinnati), and fifth-ranked Michigan State fell from form.

The Spartans lost a Big 10 match to Iowa, 80-68, indicating another topsy-turvy season among the Western Conference schools.

Among the other rated elite, Auburn (No. 6) ran its national leading winning streak to 20, nine this season, 60-47 over Mississippi; fourth-ranked Kansas State fought off Iowa State's rally for a 59-56 Big Eight victory; and eighth-ranked Northwestern stayed even with Illinois (No. 20) in the early Big 10 race with an 83-78 decision over Michigan; 11th-ranked West Virginia swamped Southern Conference foe Furman 100-66; and 12th - rated Mississippi State whipped Alabama 81-64 in South-eastern Conference play. St. Louis, No. 14, and Marquette, No. 15, scored rousing victories, the Billikens 79-62 over Pitt despite All-America Don Hannon's 30 points, and Marquette, now 10-1, over Chicago Loyola 70-59.

Clarence Wordlaw had 25 points and Dave Gunther 21 in Iowa's victory over Michigan State that cleared the way for Northwestern and Illinois to assume to Big 10 lead with 2-0 records. Willie Jones hit for 26 for Northwestern and Illinois got 18 apiece from Governor Vaughn and John Wessels in bouncing Wisconsin 77-51. Indiana, with Frank Radovich scoring 27, topped Purdue 77-69.

Auburn, top challenger to top-ranked Kentucky in the SEC, outclassed Mississippi with a balanced attack led by Henry Hart's 16 points. Mississippi State, its 10-game streak shattered by Auburn Saturday, bounced back to beat Alabama behind Bailey Howell's 26 tallies. Florida surprised LSU 69-63 and Georgia measured Tulane 70-63 in other league games.

Towering Bob Boozer and Wally Frank combined for 32 points for Kansas State to beat Iowa State in the Big Eight feature. Surprising Oklahoma handed Missouri its sixth straight loss, 64-59, Colorado beat Nebraska 57-50 and Kansas whipped Oklahoma State 59-49.

West Virginia's rout of Furman was the 41st straight Southern Conference victory for the Mounties and their 28th straight home victory.

John Frye furnished the heroics in the Atlantic Coast Conference, twisting under for a basket with two seconds left to carry Duke over Wake Forest 59-57. South Carolina of the ACC ended a seven-game losing slump, toppling Clemson 83-69.

Princeton opened its Ivy League campaign 72-57 over Penn, and Cornell thumped Columbia 68-52. Brown scored nine straight points in overtime and defeated Harvard 68-63.

Washington and Oregon State bagged their first Pacific Coast Conference triumphs. Washington downed UCLA 68-63 and Oregon State whipped Stanford 68-56.

City League Waits Action

City League Basketball gets underway Wednesday night at 6 in East Junior High School with six local teams participating.

Tomorrow night's first game pits Kennedy's against Humes at 6, followed by Alex's vs. Local 5047, and Chester — a new league entry — against Wheatley Furniture in the third game about 8:30.

Final plans for this year's action were completed at a meeting Sunday in the YMCA. The cage league was organized this year by Glenn Barnett, president of the City Baseball League, and Ralph Crowe, the league's umpire in chief.

A 10-game schedule has been lined up for the six participating teams, with a playoff scheduled March 18. The team that finishes first will meet the No. 3 team in the playoff, and the second and fourth teams will meet to round out the playoff schedule.

Each team in the playoff will receive trophies, it was announced.

Officials for this year's league action include Lou Venditti, Bob Duffy and Wayne Rose. Two 16-minute halves are planned, with the scorer's clock to be stopped for all foul shots, a change from last year. Teams will be permitted two time-outs per half, it was announced.

Team captains include Al Dawson of Kennedy's, Jim Conrad of Humes, Bob Johnson of Alex's, Lorin Howard of Local 5047, Ted Robinson of Chester, and Keith Bishop of Wheatley Furniture.

The league was authorized use of the East Junior High School gymnasium until March 18 by the Board of Education at a meeting Monday night. Last year's games were held in Westgate Junior High School.

Olmedo, Davis Cup Hero, Has New Slant On Tennis

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) —

Alex Olmedo, the easy-going copper-skinned native of Peru who was catapulted into tennis fame when he scored an almost single-handed victory for the United States in the Davis Cup Challenge Round, believes he now has a new approach to tennis.

In the three-day span of the Challenge Round he thinks he learned to concentrate. Now he believes he can go on to greater victories and perhaps attract a good offer from his friend, Jack Kramer, the professional promoter.

"It is in the back of my head," he admitted before leaving here for the Western Australian Championships at Perth.

Olmedo followed a rugged route from Peru to the United States and to tennis fame. But the difficulties he encountered never brought out in him the qualities of determination and desire to win. It wasn't until U.S. Davis Cup Captain Perry Jones lectured him for his lackadaisical attitude in his first cup match that he realized the importance of concentration.

Alex — first name Alejandro — was born in Arequipa, the second largest city in Peru. He is the second oldest of seven children. His father is a caretaker and teacher on the public tennis courts.

Olmedo was 10 when he swiped one of the rackets out of his father's shop and won a men's tournament in Arequipa. Instead of being punished, Alex was allowed to keep the racket and his father began to teach and encourage him.

At 15 he won the South Peruvian men's title and went on to win three national junior crowns. His talent drew the attention of Stanley Singer, an American professional in Peru.

Singer sought to get a scholarship in the United States for Olmedo but because Alex did not speak English he had no success. Finally fellow townsmen took up a collection to send Olmedo, then 17, to the United States.

Alex made the trip alone to Los Angeles and arrived with $70 in his pockets and no friends. But Singer had a friend there, Joe Cianci, who ran the Poinsetta Park public courts. Olmedo managed to find him and Cianci gave him a job at the tennis shop and helped him with his game.

Olmedo began gaining more notice when he won the national public parks junior singles, doubles and mixed doubles championships. He moved from the public courts to the country club set.

Perry Jones, czar of Southern California tennis, took an interest in the youngster. He got Alex a scholarship at the University of Southern California, where Coach George Toley took Olmedo under his wing.

In 1956 Olmedo won the national collegiate championship and gained a surprising victory over Australia's Lew Hoad, then one of the world's top amateurs. He missed the next year's college tourney because of a ban against his school but repeated in 1958.

Jones had to fight to have Olmedo named to the U.S. Davis Cup team because Alex isn't a U.S. citizen and doesn't intend to become one. The team captain was criticized when he picked Alex over Ham Richardson for the Challenge Round singles.

Last week Olmedo repaid Jones' faith in him when he whipped two of the world's best amateurs, Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper, to return the cup to America.

Kentucky U. Retains Lead In Cage Poll

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The unbeaten Kentucky Wildcats—boasting 11 victories, the longest season streak of the country's major teams—held down first place for the third consecutive week today in The Associated Press basketball poll.

But North Carolina State, Auburn and St. John's (N.Y.) all made notable gains.

On the strength of victories over Cincinnati and Michigan State in the Dixie Classic, North Carolina State moved into second place. The Wolfpack, fifth a week ago, collected 30 votes for first place and 1,115 points in the balloting by 137 sports writers and broadcasters.

Kentucky, however, garnered 81 first place votes and 1,245 points on the usual 10 points for first, 9 for second etc. basis. The Wildcats padded their victory total by three last week. They will go after their 12th straight tonight at Vanderbilt.

Auburn climbed from ninth to sixth place. The Plainsmen whipped previously undefeated Mississippi State for their 19th straight over a two-year span.

St. John's, winners of the ECAC Holiday Festival, zoomed into 10th position. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

There was an almost complete shuffle in the other positions in the top 10.

North Carolina moved up a single notch to third place. Michigan State bounced back from its N.C. State setback to edge Indiana. This triumph enabled the Spartans to advance two spots to fifth place. Cincinnati, which also lost to North Carolina, tumbled from second to seventh. Kansas State slumped one place to fourth.

Top 10 teams with first place votes and won-loss records through Saturday, Jan. 3 in parentheses (points on a 10-9-8 basis):

Firemen Urge Care In Thawing Of Pipes

With the district in the grip of a new cold wave, area firemen today urged residents to use extreme caution in thawing frozen water lines and setting up auxiliary heating units.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville said as far as he knows there have been no fires caused by thawing water pipes with an open flame. Overheated furnace fires all have been minor, he said.

Householders were cautioned not to use any kind of open flame in thawing lines. A hot water bottle or electric iron placed on the pipe will do the job just as well, firemen said.

District residents also are asked to make sure all auxiliary gas heating units are vented. They should be turned off at night as the flame sometimes will go out when gas pressure drops.

Users of coal furnaces should check their flue pipes and chimneys to make sure they are not clogged with soot.

City Jaycees Disagree With National Unit In Cliburn Case

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Monday drafted a resolution opposing the way a national award was presented over the weekend.

Pianist Van Cliburn was to receive the award but was unable to appear on the presentation night. The award was withdrawn and singer Pat Boone was named in Cliburn's place.

The award is the TOYM—10 outstanding young men.

Funds

Last night's ordinance provides $1,980 to continue the system of 10 adult school crossing guards, which originally was to have been dropped Dec. 19, when classes recessed for the Christmas vacation. Retaining the crossing guards was agreed upon previously, along with a decision not to furlough most other new employees added in mid-1958 out of income tax revenue.

The decision to retain the workers was made when Council learned late in December the city's general fund income would be higher than anticipated.

Other items in the temporary appropriation are for routine operating expenses, enabling the city to meet payrolls and pay minor bills until the appropriation for the full year is drafted. The temporary appropriation generally is enacted at the resolution also asks the national policy director to amend the rule governing the selection and presentation so that the winner need not be present.

The resolution will be presented before the entire state membership at an all-state meeting Saturday and Sunday in Youngstown. Several from the local Jaycee unit plan to attend.

Plans were completed for the Bosses Night dinner Jan. 14 at 6:30 p. m. at the Country Club. This will replace the general membership meeting this month.

The next board meeting will be Feb. 2. Charles Shriver, president, presided.

Freeway Start Now Expected In 18 Months

Although the State Highway Department expected to start work in 1959 on the California Hollow West End stage of a cross-town freeway, the "latest, best guess" is that the beginning of construction is 18 months away, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence told Council Monday night.

The delay results mainly from the fact the state must tie in the new four-lane city highway with a proposed Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway that will begin at the city limits, the mayor explained. If the job is held up 18 months, it will not get under way until mid-1960.

The mayor revealed postponement of the construction date as part of a report on the preparation of plans for an interchange in the city freeway that will take it over the four-lane section of W. 8th St.

"Plans for three basic interchange proposals have been forwarded to the Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia," he said. "Presumably, they have been forwarded now to Columbus for further study and recommendations. What the final decision will be remains to be seen."

"Every effort is being made to link the city freeway with the river-to-lake highway and other proposed improvements in Routes 7 and 30," the mayor said. "The latest best guess the Highway Department can give us is that construction will begin 18 months from now."

"That's a little later than we had hoped," the mayor continued. "At this time, I can't give you anything more definite, but I want to assure you and the public that it is being pursued urgently."

The interchange plans to which the mayor referred were discussed at a meeting of city and highway department officials and engineers about a month ago. The plans are being prepared by Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, a consulting engineering firm.

the first meeting of the new year, as authority to spend money under the previous year's appropriation has expired.

Appropriations by funds in the temporary legislation are: General $14,159; safety, $72,229; health, $5,671; service, $18,370; garbage, $18,370; water works, $61,216; sewage system, $40,775; relief, $10,000; street department, $30,500; Civil Defense, $1,000, and income tax revenue, $3,802.

In connection with the income tax operations in 1959, Council appropriated $1,000 for clerical help through March, along with $1,302 for the salary of Frank Blakeley, supervisor.

One clerk will be retained, but at $1.45 an hour instead of on a salaried basis, Council decreed in other legislation.

The office must be staffed through March, when tax reports and payments will be filed by businesses and corporations on income for 1958. Councilman George E. Willshaw explained. The payments on 1958 business are required despite the fact that the tax ordinance was repealed in mid-November.

Two clerks are employed in the office, but they will work alternate weeks so that the city, in effect, will be paying only one salary, Willshaw explained.

Ordinance Passes 5-2 On First Reading

Council Advances Action To Regulate Junk Yards

An ordinance providing strict regulation of East Liverpool junk yards was given first reading with a 5-2 vote at Council's first 1959 meeting Monday night.

The split vote means the ordinance will be up for two more required readings at the sessions Jan. 19 and Feb. 2. If enacted, the ordinance does not carry an emergency clause.

THE MAIN provisions require that all junk yards must be enclosed by stout, well-maintained fences at least 7 feet high and that scrapped autos cannot be piled higher than 7 feet inside the yard.

The ordinance also requires that the operator must have a written permit before burning any refuse. A rubbish fire cannot be started within 30 feet of any building, the ordinance provides. If the yard is too small in area for compliance with that provision, the operator must erect an incinerator in which to burn his trash.

With 6 votes required for immediate passage under suspension of the rules, Councilmen A. Stanley Kidder and William Y. Orr cast dissenting votes. Favorable votes were cast by Councilmen H. A. Tullis, W. E. Kaiser, Samuel Weber, George E. Willshaw and Robert W. Sample Jr.

Kidder explained that he objected to the clause that forbids stacking wrecked autos higher than 7 feet. In a case where a junk yard is located well below street level there would be no hazard in stacking old cars higher than 7 feet, provided the pile was not above the level of the fence, he commented.

When the ordinance was discussed Dec. 29, Council tentatively inserted a clause providing that wrecked cars would not be stacked "higher than the nearest fence." However, the 7-foot limitation was written in as an amendment before the legislation was taken onto the floor last night.

Orr did not explain his opposition. At the Dec. 29 meeting, Kidder also said he believed the ordinance should be considered at three separate meetings, rather than enacting it at a single session.

THE ORDINANCE requires an annual license fee of $50 from junk dealers. It fixes a $12.50 yearly license charge for persons who collect junk but do not operate a scrap yard.

It requires the operators to maintain records of purchases that will be open to police inspection in search for stolen property. To aid in recovery of stolen property, it requires that no purchase except wrecked autos can be offered for resale in less than 30 days.

The gates the junk yard operators must build are required to be "maintained in a neat, safe condition and must be painted," the ordinance provides. The fences will be equipped with gates that swing inward and the gates must be kept locked when the yards are not open for business.

The legislation requires the operator to maintain the premises "in as clean, sanitary and neat a condition as such business will reasonably permit." It calls for precautions against rats, vermin or fire hazards and requires an inspection every four months by the fire department.

Junk dealers who dismantle old autos must keep them off the sidewalks and streets adjacent to their property, the ordinance provides. It provides a penalty of from $50 to $100 for violations, plus a 30-day jail term for a second offense.

Eddie Fisher's TV Show To Stop March 17

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eddie Fisher's television show will be dropped March 17.

His sponsor — a tobacco firm — didn't pick up the options on his contract, a spokesman for the crooner said Monday.

An unofficial network source for the National Broadcasting Co. said "It's strictly a matter of low ratings."

The hour-long show is opposed by top-rated Westerns on other networks.

Board Returns Jack Pozenel

Beaver President Receives 6th Term

Jack Pozenel of West Point was re-elected to his sixth term as president of the Beaver Local Board of Education at a re-organization meeting Monday night at the Public School.

Paul Dailey was re-elected vice president.

The board retained its past schedule of meeting nights as the second and fourth Monday of each month, and approved a public official's bond of $1,000 for Clerk Harry Greenwood. The board also approved temporary appropriations for the first part of the year.

The board also accepted the tax rates and amounts for the district as certified by the County Budget Commission. The tax rate amounts to 21.5 mills, plus the 2.1-mill bond issue — levy for a final total of 23.6 mills.

The board will meet again Monday night.

Bankruptcies Increase

CLEVELAND (AP)—The number of bankruptcies filed in U. S. district court here in 1958 set an all-time record and was 53 per cent higher than in 1957. In the 22-county northeastern Ohio area the court serves, 3,815 were filed.

Deportation Airing Set
CLEVELAND (AP)—The U. S. district commissioner of immigration here, John M. Lehmann, has set next Monday to hear an appeal from Mrs. Nina Caldarevic, 21-year-old Yugoslav divorcee, who seeks to avoid deportation. Mrs. Caldarevic came here in August, 1957, to visit her parents and brought her infant son, Dudo, with her. Shortly before the birth of a second child, Marina, now 9 months old, she refused to return to Yugoslavia with her husband. After he had gone back to Zagreb without her, she said, he divorced her.

Stacey Issues Report
